A Security Assessment is focused on evaluating the state of security at a single point in time. A security assessment provides tangible and intangible value to the organization being reviewed and should be seen as a crucial first step in managing network risk. The value of a security assessment lies in the discovery of potential risk areas before they become active problems for the customer.

Customer benefits of a Security Assessment include:

- Secure Organization
- Reduced server maintenance costs
- Reduced workstation maintenance costs
- Increased reliability and availability
- Increased system performance
- Improved service management
- Simplified contingency planning
- Reduced complexity and improved documentation
- Reduce costs of an on-site visit

Assessing your information systems will help your business make informed decisions and run the best information system possible.
